

Rain is over, rodeo 109 all set

St. Albert's biggest weekend of the year gets under way in two days!

Friday evening at 7 p.m., official opening ceremonies will kick off Kinsmen Rodeo 109. One of Alberta's liveliest western events held yearly to celebrate St. Albert's birthday, rodeo draws top-rated cowboys from all across Canada and the United States. They come here rarely to ride, rope and steer wrestle for a slice of the total purse which this year is estimated at $6,000.

With a little co-operation from the weather, St. Albert Kinsmen feel confident that this year's crowds will be bigger than ever -- as befits a show that's been billed as bigger and better than ever.

Having committed themselves to picking up the tab for the installation of artificial ice in the new St. Albert arena (a $40,000 undertaking), local Kinsmen have their collective fingers crossed this week in the hope that this year's rodeo will be blessed with good weather.

For the past two years, sunny skies have meant financial success for rodeo -- but there have also been years when Kinsmen's hopes of making money for community projects went down the drain along with the downpour.

Working on the theory that a bad dress rehearsal means a good performance, Kinsmen can take heart from the cloudy skies and gusts of wind and rain that were present for Monday's rodeo week proclamation ceremonies at town hall. Hopes are that with such bad weather at the start of the week, it's bound to turn out nice by Friday in time for the big show.

From all reports, good weather is the only ingredient left to chance in an effort to make this weekend one of the best in local history both for St. Albert residents and visitors. Kinsmen have been hard at work for months putting together the kind of show that's been so well received in the past.

BACM starts work on subdivision

Initial work on the first phase of a 120-acre housing development in the Mission Park area of St. Albert has begun.

N. F. Bothwell, Alberta area manager of BACM's land and development division and spokesman for the developer, reports that land has already been stripped in an area near the St. Albert High School and a legal survey is in progress. Planning has been approved by the town, establishing road patterns, park and school locations.

Phase one of the development to be known as Lacombe Park will involve about 200 single family lots. The 120-acre development will eventually contain 400 to 450 single family lots with the possibility of 150 apartment units, most likely of the townhouse type, "properly planned and located in relation to the hospital, school sites and open space."

Work will begin shortly on the installation of underground utilities. Putting in underground services and installing sidewalks will take approximately eight weeks, Mr. Bothwell stated.

"I think we could begin to see houses taking shape in the latter part of August and the early part of September."

"Occupancy should commence around the end of the year and the first stage should be fully occupied in the latter half of 1971."

It is expected that houses will be in the $22,000 to $25,000 bracket. This takes into consideration the town's minimum assessment requirements, Mr. Bothwell explained. These requirements are designed to return to the town sufficient tax money so that new areas can be self-supporting.

It is probable that close to 50 per cent of the houses will be constructed by Engineered Homes, BACM's wholly-owned house building subsidiary, Mr. Bothwell stated. Lots will also be sold to other builders, although no commitments have been made as yet. There will be an opportunity for private individuals to buy single lots

Sturgeon Hospital opens in August

The new 100-bed Sturgeon General Hospital in St. Albert will officially open Wednesday, August 5, and receive its first patients 10 days later.

Ribbon cutting ceremonies will be held at the hospital site at 4 p.m. on that date, with a gala dinner and dance to be held at the Edmonton Inn, commencing at 6:30 p.m.

Tickets for the evening dinner and dance are now available to the general public from hospital board members and the hospital administrative offices at $10 per person.

It is anticipated that more than 300 St. Albert and district residents will attend the dinner and dance.

Before a display which signifies Kinsmen's plans to supply an artificial ice plant for the new St. Albert arena, Lt.-Gov. Grant MacEwan listens to Mayor Ray Gibbon officially proclaim Rodeo Week in St. Albert. The umbrellas which obliging Kinsmen hold for their guests are due to disappear Friday when sunny skies will appear for the three-day celebration. Taking part in the ceremony are, left to right: Kinsmen Bob Forcand, Rusty Pollard, Erling Winkvist and Bob Myrthue, Mayor Gibbon, Lt.-Gov. MacEwan, Kinette Doreen Pollard, Kinsmen Ed Taylor, Bruce Daley and official host for Rodeo, President Tom White. The mayor's proclamation is as follows:

Accident victim returns home

Eleven-year-old Robbie Wright, a victim of a fire-works accident May 16, returned home from hospital this week.

Robbie, who is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Ken Wright of 13 Grandora Crescent, suffered an injured eye in an explosion caused by a fire-cracker being tossed into a fire where Robbie and his companions were roasting weiners.

Robbie spent some time in Edmonton General Hospital and was later moved to University Hospital where special facilities were available to treat the injured eye.

Mr. Wright states that his son cannot see with the injured eye although he is conscious of light and doctors are hopeful that partial sight will return through a process of natural repair. At the end of a two-year period, doctors will consider other methods of restoring sight to the eye, including a transplant operation, Mr. Wright said.

PROCLAMATION

I hereby proclaim the week of June 15 to June 21, as Rodeo "109" Week in the Town of St. Albert.

I ask all residents of the Town of St. Albert to attend Rodeo "109" in support of the St. Albert Kinsmen.

On behalf of the town I extend an invitation to all residents of the surrounding area to visit St. Albert on the weekend of June 19 to 21 to enjoy Rodeo "109" as well as the other entertainment provided for young and old.

R. M. GIBBON, MAYOR
TOWN OF ST. ALBERT.

You can dance all night

Whether you're 14 or 94, you won't want to miss Saturday night in Morinville on Frontier Daze weekend. No celebration would be complete without dancing for all and two big dances are on for that Saturday night.

The generation gap being what it is with regard to tastes in music, two locations with two different style dance bands were decided on. In the auditorium the adults will be whooping it up with polkas, fox-trots and old-time waltzes in real Frontier Daze style. Over at the banquet room a teen dance will give the young people a chance to let loose to the kind of music the pioneers never imagined!

The Frontier Daze committee are looking for more talent for the bandshell program which will entertain the crowds both days. Dancers, singers, acrobats, musicians, magicians, jugglers, ventriloquists. Whatever your talent, here is a golden opportunity to display it. Just phone 256-3448

AGT keeps up with new developments

Alberta Government Telephones is involved in a $400,000 expansion program in St. Albert.

Bill Fallow, outside plant engineer for the St. Albert district, describes this as "probably the busiest year we will ever have in St. Albert because underground feeder routes have to be built to three different outlying subdivisions at the same time."

Already completed is the underground system to service the Alcan development in Braeside. Work has been under way for the past several weeks on the first phase of a system to serve the West Grandin Park area and scheduled to begin within two or three weeks is work on a system to service the BACM Mission Park development.

Mr. Fallow explains that AGT did not foresee all three subdivisions being developed at one time.

"We first thought the expansion would cost in the neighborhood of $250,000 but when we found the three developments were going ahead in one year, we had to resubmit the project."

It is expected that the underground system presently being installed will last for more than 20 years. Series of six fibre ducts encased in concrete are being laid in four-foot trenches with manholes about every thousand feet. It is estimated that each of the six ducts in the underground systems will hold enough cable to service housing to be built over the next two or three-year period in each of the three new subdivisions. Cable will be pulled through the ducts as required.

Most recent phase of the expansion has been the laying of the underground system from the central office of AGT on St. Michael Street to the corner of Grandin Road and Sir Winston Churchill Avenue. This program has necessitated excavations for manholes at the intersections of Perron Street and St. Michael, Perron and Sir Winston Churchill and Grandin Road.

A second phase of this system, designed to feed proposed condominium and single family dwelling units in West Grandin Park, will be undertaken in August. Another 4,500 feet of duct will be laid at that time, running from Grandin Shoppers Park to a point opposite Pro-Western Plastics Ltd. and south of the railway track.

Motorists who have had to contend with torn-up streets and equipment working in the downtown area will be faced with the same situation when work begins within a few weeks time on the underground system to serve the new subdivision planned for the north side of town.

Mr. Fallow explains that construction work on AGT projects is contracted out and each individual contractor must leave the construction site to meet site rehabilitation standards set by the town engineer. In certain cases this could mean that a construction site, such as at the corner of St. Michael and Perron Streets, could be repaired and then dug up again in a few weeks when another underground system is undertaken.

The system to serve the northern subdivision will be built from the Post Office, directly west on St. Michael Street for two blocks, then north, under the Sturgeon River, to the junction of Mission Avenue and Mount Royal Drive.

In order to extend the system under the river, the six ducts will be encased in a culvert filled with a waterproofing gel. It is expected that this system will be completed in October of this year.

As well as serving the proposed BACM housing development, this system will supply cable for the party rural program in the area north of St. Albert. Since 1964, AGT has been in the process of buying out farmers' mutual telephone companies. This year they will be supplying the four-party rural distribution to the area north of St. Albert. The change-over should be complete by the end of January, 1971, Mr. Fallow said.

Aerial cable is no longer used in new subdivisions except in the case of smaller communities, Mr. Fallow explained.

Some pole lines and main feeders in the downtown area and along St. Albert Trail will gradually disappear over the next two years. No changes in above-ground telephone cable in established residential areas of St. Albert are contemplated.

Guide Assoc. meeting

Election of officers for the coming year will be followed by a social evening.

Because of the addition of the new Sturgeon district to the existing Mackenzie and Grandin districts, the local association will consist of three separate groups, each with its own executive, to help look after the needs of the close to 600 St. Albert girls involved in guiding.

St. Albert girl guides, brownies and rangers are presently winding up another successful year with swimming parties, weiner roasts and other farewell do's.

The local association, of which all mothers are members, is closing out the season with a general meeting on Tuesday, June 23, at 8 p.m. in the Roman Catholic church basement.

the Gazette REFLECTS

Many questions remain unanswered after hearing two provincial engineers from the water resources branch at a public meeting in St. Albert June 9.

For the people of this area the matter of greatest concern is the fate of the Sturgeon River, Big Lake and a number of smaller lakes in the district, under the overall plan for the entire basin. But the priority of an improved Sturgeon was not made clear. And since the study is projected as far ahead as the year 2020, this could be serious. Will an increased and controlled flow of water in the Sturgeon come about in 1973 — will it happen in this century? How will the village of Gibbons solve its water supply? Or St. Albert in the future?

Obviously the requirements for power must be assured. Also the North Saskatchewan river borders our river basin, and the needs of the Sturgeon may be thought small potatoes in comparison.

Our MLA Keith Everitt posed the question "What can be done to speed up the project within the boundaries of M.D. Sturgeon?" In reply Mr. Bailey stated the planning engineers are not in favor of any piecemeal work. Such work might come in conflict with the plan for the area next door, say in five years time, he said.

There was a relatively effective aid for the Sturgeon river by way of the former dam on Lac Ste. Anne. It is not clear to the public why this dam was destroyed, — who destroyed it — or why it has not been rebuilt.

Mr. Bill Veness, keenly interested in the state of the Sturgeon for many years, was right in urging the audience to co-ordinate all efforts to improve our river valley, and the spearhead action to persuade the government to move faster on its development.

Taxpayers have the right and the duty to let their government know their wishes on priorities for spending their hard-earned cash. For those hundreds of people in this area who are deeply concerned about Sturgeon River valley development, there is a further consideration it would be well to remember. St. Albert, co-operating with M.D. Sturgeon and the other towns within it, has a much stronger and more persuasive voice on such important local matters as an independent town. Should amalgamation with Edmonton come, this voice will be largely stifled.

Housing co-op investigated

A recently-formed organization known as Edmonton Citizens for Better Housing has come up with a specific proposal for a mixed-income co-operative housing community in the St. Albert area. The organization, described as a "research and action" group, has taken an option on a 105 Acre site of which 25 acres is proposed for initial development.

It is the feeling of members of the organization that there must be opportunities available for people to participate in designing and developing communities in which they are going to be living. According to organizers of the group, people are no longer satisfied to live in isolated structures built without reference to their way of life. Each man has the wish and the responsibility to develop both the physical and social environments in which he can live most happily.

All people who are interested in developing a community, are invited to participate in a 10-day planning process called a "Charrette" — an investigative study of community problems in an open public forum. It will be held June 22 to June 30. A part of the charrette will be held in St. Albert.

It is hoped that through people working co-operatively, basic plans for a housing community will be drawn up.

Anyone interested, may contact the Edmonton Citizens for Better Housing by telephoning 414-0331 and asking for Betty.

3 men bring chamber meeting up to date on Sturgeon River Basin

Bill Veness

In his review of local Sturgeon river improvement efforts Bill Veness told the Chamber of Commerce public meeting last week, how the river was used for recreation summer and winter by district people, and for drinking and cooking. When St. Albert decided in 1951-52 to install a water system the town called on the Sturgeon. Water was good but there was not enough. The river bed was becoming full of silt and the river became more sluggish, until in 1956 it almost ran out. An attempt was made in 1957 to bring in water from Big Lake by blasting. This was quite successful, but not good enough to guarantee a supply in the face of the rapid growth beginning in St. Albert.

A dam was proposed to raise the water level about four feet, which it was felt would provide a good water supply and recreation area. However, the government would not give permission and the town decided to tie in with the city of Edmonton water system.

In 1963 the Municipal District of Sturgeon requested a study under the federal government's Arda program. This study by Mr. Swindlehurst worked from the source of the Sturgeon to where it joins the Saskatchewan river at Fort Saskatchewan. Although in early days the river had run grist mills and lumber mills etc., it was found to be a lazy winding river with a slow rate of flow in many places. He noted that the river traverses 160 miles from Lac Ste. Anne to Fort Saskatchewan.

There were many back waters and bog areas. The study pointed out that to maintain a controlled flow the year around, perhaps the tributaries of the Sturgeon should be investigated, with a view to building dams on the tributaries to hold the spring run-off. There is a high flow in spring which becomes almost nil in winter. The water resources branch of the provincial government then took over and many further studies have been going on.

Mr. Veness remarked that many people and groups were interested in redeeming the Sturgeon and felt that all these efforts should be co-ordinated and spearheaded in order to get some action. The entire area would reap great benefit from a system to increase and control the flow of the Sturgeon, and to make Big Lake a usable lake without destroying the habitat for wild life. Benefit would come not only for recreation facilities, but even another source of water for our growing town, and safe adequate sewage disposal.

Reg Bailey

The study for Prairie Rivers Improved Management and Evaluation (PRIME) has been adopted as a blueprint for Alberta, Director of the Water Resources, Mr. Reg Bailey, told the meeting on Sturgeon River development held last week by the St. Albert Chamber of Commerce.

The major sources of water on the prairies are in the north, while the needs are in the south. Mr. Bailey said the government plan is to first develop to the optimum the water resources in each river basin and then borrow from the northerly water sheds. He mentioned the program to eliminate flooding in the Pembina river valley by eliminating the oxbows which has been relatively effective, but not 100 per cent.

Studies of flooding on the Battle River, which empties into the Pembina, may be the real key, and the plan is to try and store these flood waters behind a dam, possibly at Entwistle. However, Mr. Bailey noted that economists say the costs of this dam would exceed the economic benefit in flood protection. However Mr. Bailey pointed out that if a dam at Entwistle could control flooding on both the Battle and Pembina rivers, and provide additional water for the Sturgeon, plus aid irrigation, municipal needs and recreation needs for people in St. Albert and Edmonton areas, it could be worthwhile. The Pembina river phase of the Sturgeon Valley study, and the inventory of resources in the basin are being completed, Mr. Bailey said. He made it clear that the government does not intend to do any piecemeal work in the Sturgeon river basin until all the studies are completed and the project can go forward according to the overall plan which will be laid down on the basis of these studies.

Tuffy Mussivand

"The Sturgeon river basin development is the first one in Alberta to be planned under the newest method of system analyses. This river basin is my baby, and I am trying to apply this method to this basin. If successful it could be used for others in Alberta, Canada and around the world." So said Tuffy Mussivand, project director for the Sturgeon River Basin study, who was main speaker at the Chamber of Commerce public meeting last week.

He has been working over the past three years on the study which is being done in four phases.

Phase One — Identify the problem — including location, distribution and inventory of available water in the basin. This phase is now completed after nearly three years work by agencies on 98 different reports.

This year Mr. Mussivand is working on Phase Two which is to project what will happen in 1975-80-95 and up to the year 2020. We cannot forget the future and the next generation, he said. "The best use and most benefit possible from the project is being considered — not only dollars and cents," he noted. Referring to Mr. Veness's plea for faster action by the government, he said, I and the other planners are as anxious as you to see the project under construction." To solve the problem and meet the needs of all people in the area involved takes a lot of work and therefore time, especially when you are working on so many aspects of development, with so many interested agencies. "In my country (Persia) we have a proverb 'There has to be a school for every soup.' This is one of the planner's problems," said Mr. Mussivand.

Phase Three of the analysis is cost estimates and Mr. Bailey later told the audience he was to have preliminary estimates ready for the government by September of this year. Phase Four is people demand, and again matters of pollution, flooding, drainage, irrigation and supply of water for municipal and industrial use as well as recreation are all involved.

Where the Sturgeon River is concerned an improved and controlled flow of water is required. Flow is sometimes recorded at nil — usually in winter. Estimates are that we have 350,000 acre feet of water in the entire Sturgeon basin and we require about 1,700,000 acre feet to meet all demands. "The only two alternatives," said Mr. Mussivand, "are to import water or eliminate some of the needs." Records show an average annual precipitation of 22 inches in the southwest corner and 16 inches in the northeast corner of the basin. Average yearly evaporation for the basin is 24 inches.

Maps and overlay charts were on display to illustrate various proposals under study. A suggestion for the Sturgeon river is to start from the Pembina, which, said Mr. Mussivand, may be the only place from which to bring water in. One proposal is a dam to direct water through the Magnolia Reservoir at Entwistle, then part to Isle Lake, part to Lac Ste Anne and then to other lakes in the basin. A canal for future irrigation and to divert water into the Sturgeon river, could be part of this proposal. He also said Big Lake enters into the picture and is being studied for receiving water from the Pembina and then on to the Saskatchewan river.

Mr. Mussivand emphasized that proposed dams, diversions, lake stabilization measures, drainage and irrigation proposals, as indicated on his maps, are all so far preliminary. Final stage of the schedule should be completed in 1971, with recommendations to begin construction coming in 1972.

In the question period he stated that Alberta lakes are glacial remainders and the trend to receding lake levels was a problem all over. A cycle of wet years could improve the situation. Mr. Mussivand also suggested that this area could easily produce much more vegetable volume for our local supermarkets which bring in so much from California and elsewhere.

Speaking on costs of the project in the question period, Mr. Bailey made clear that tertiary sewage treatment plants cost big money — more than any single town or village could do. If these are included costs of the project would be greater. Estimates are between 150 and 250 million dollars.

Cowboys and broncs go Friday night

Official host for Rodeo 1976, Kinsmen President Tom White, extends a warm invitation to all St. Albert and district residents to join in the biggest celebration yet. It's a marvelous opportunity to celebrate St. Albert's 100th birthday, have a ball at rodeo and show community support for the local Kinsmen "ice-makers."

Tickets will be on sale at the rodeo grounds located on highway no. 2, north of the town. Admission is $2 for adults and 50¢ for students under 16. There is no charge for pre-schoolers.

The first rodeo performance will get under way at 8:35 p.m. Friday following official opening ceremonies conducted by Honorable J. Grant MacEwan and Mayor Ray Gibben.

Big names on the rodeo circuit such as Kenny McLean, 1969 all around champion of the Canadian Rodeo Cowboys Association, runner-up Malcolm Jones and third place finisher Tom Bews are all expected to be on hand when the action starts Friday night. They can be counted on to thrill audiences with their skill and daring — both in and out of the saddle. Seasoned pros and newcomers to the rodeo circuit will compete in six events — steer wrestling, Brahma bull riding, calf roping, bareback bronc riding, saddle bronc riding and wild cow milking.

One of the top stock contractors on the continent, Reg Kesler, will once again provide top quality stock for the events and Bill Holt is the well-known "man on the mike" who'll describe the action as it takes place.

Competition in all events will be hot and heavy this weekend as St. Albert Kinsmen's Rodeo 109 swings into action. Reminding rodeo contestants that they have three days to compete for the all-around championship and trophy shotgun is Albert Hauptman, president of the Bruin Hotel Company which is donating the gun.

Rodeo 109 where the action is

No matter what event's in progress, rodeo fans are assured of spine-tingling action throughout the three days of Rodeo 109.

Saddle bronc riding, always a favorite with St. Albert crowds, is considered the cornerstone of all rodeo competition. It requires a background of breaking rough horses. With nothing but a rope rein in his hand, the rider's horsebreaking experience is invaluable. Judges mark the horse from one to 25 points on how hard the animal bucks.

Bareback bronc riding, youngest of rodeo's three standard riding contests, has no actual tie-in with workaday ranch duties. It has been developed in the arena. With nothing but a bareback rigging which has a handle similar to that on a suitcase, cowboys have a problem staying on the twisting, explosive horses. The higher and wilder a bareback rider spurs, the better his marking by the judges. Spurs are dulled by association rules.

Bull riding is often considered the most popular event for spectators and CRCA officials claim that nothing compares with it for danger and action. Bulls with a cross of Brahma blood are incredibly fast and dangerous. Bulls will attack a horse, so pickup men can't be used and only the clown can help to save cowboys from serious injury and death. Staying in the middle of a Brahma bull calls for balance and a strong riding arm.

Calf roping, a race against time with prize money determined by fractions of seconds, requires constant practice and teamwork between horse and rider. A good horse rates the calf and closes on him quickly. Ropers like horses to stay a length behind and a fraction to one side to allow a clean throw. The horse's quick stop propels the cowboy down the rope to the calf. The roper must throw the calf by hand and wrap and tie three of his legs with a short length of rope.

Steer wrestling, like bronc riding, was never part of ranch work but originated in a wild west show 40 years ago. The cowboy leaps from a galloping horse on to the horns of a steer running at full tilt, stops the steer and throws it to the ground. This is an event where skill overcomes heavily weighted odds.

Total prize money in any event is made up of entry fees paid by contestants and the purse put up by the rodeo committee, which is called added money.

Rodeo champion is the winner of the most money for the year in any one of the approved events at association-approved rodeos. All-around championship is awarded each year to the contestant who receives the most points in the five major events and who has placed in one timed event, one riding event and one of the three remaining major events.

Lesburgs Mark Golden Wedding Mother and daughter

MORINVILLE -- On Saturday, May 30, Mr. and Mrs. Edward Lesburg of Morinville celebrated the 50th anniversary of their marriage, which took place June 2, 1920, in Belgium. To celebrate their golden wedding the couple attended mass celebrated by Rev. G. H. Primeau and renewed their marriage vows before a congregation of some 80 people including their three daughters, 17 grandchildren and three great grandchildren. Mrs. Muriel Krauskopf was soloist and Michael Bromeling was organist.

At a banquet held in the Morinville recreation centre, Mayor Arthur Stapleton congratulated the couple on behalf of the citizens of Morinville and district. The toast to the happy jubilaires was proposed by a nephew Albert Lesburg of St. Albert. Kevin Bolle of Legal presented his grandmother with a dozen long stemmed American Beauty roses on behalf of all the grandchildren. A scroll from Pope Paul the sixth was presented by Rev. G. H. Primeau, MLA Keith Everitt brought greetings from the Alberta government, and the Lieutenant-Governor of Alberta.

Fifty years ago Mr. and Mrs. Lesburg spent their honeymoon crossing the Atlantic to come and visit Mr. Lesburg's two brothers and their families homesteading in Alberta. They arrived in July at the home of Joe Lesburg in the Villeneuve area. Then they travelled to the Sangudo district where the other brother Al was farming. They liked the country so much that they stayed and established themselves on a homestead of their own in the Villeneuve district. They later moved to the St. Albert area and in 1944 to a farm north of Morinville, where they remained until their retirement to the town 12 years ago.

Seven children were born of their marriage and three daughters survive, all residents of the district. Mrs. Leonard (Irene) Brenneis, of Mearns; Mrs. Camille (Yvonne) Bolle of Legal, and Mrs. Ernest (Evelyn) Bokenfohr of Morinville.

Two years ago Mr. Lesburg's wedding ring was lost in the garden and when the couple renewed their marriage vows it was sadly missed by Mr. Lesburg. However on the following day, while Mr. and Mrs. Lesburg were cultivating cucumber plants in their garden, the ring was found with Mr. Lesburg's name still clearly engraved on it. Displaying the heavy gold band on his finger, Mr. Lesburg said "I know that this is a good omen, for me it means another 50 years of happy life."

Auxiliary tours hospital

Members of the Sturgeon General Hospital Auxiliary were escorted on a guided tour of the 100-bed hospital, June 8. Auxiliary members were welcomed by Miss Betty Drury RN, supervisor of nursing, Dick Fowler of the hospital board and Gordon Townsend, administrator. The tour included inspection of the intensive care unit which, it was pointed out, is seldom found in a rural hospital of this size; special rooms for mothers and infants in the maternity section and the x-ray laboratory equipped to take care of but very special cases.

Members enjoyed the bright and cheery color scheme evident throughout the whole building and the panoramic view of the entire Sturgeon valley.

It was announced that the grand opening of the hospital is scheduled for Aug. 5.

Mrs. Jean Varner, chairman, announced that this would be the last meeting until September.

Results of the first annual blossom ball social held in Morinville in May exceeded $250 and Social Convener Mrs. Ingrid Elliott and members who sold the tickets are to be congratulated. The auxiliary is grateful for the splendid public support received.

Miss Drury and Mr. Townsend will be guests at a meeting in Legal, June 22, sponsored by the Catholic Women's League. They will answer questions from residents regarding the function of the new municipal hospital to serve all sections of the Municipal District of Sturgeon.

Boy: "I'll be glad when I'm old enough to do what I want."

Dad: "By that time you'll be married and you still can't."

A photo bug contest will also be held following Frontier Daze. All photos from every phase of Frontier Daze are requested to be sent to Mr. and Mrs. Paul Froment before July 31, 1970 for judging. Photos taken will then be judged and prizes of $10, $5, and $2 will be awarded by the judges for 1st, 2nd, and 3rd. places. All photos are to remain the property of Frontier Daze.

St. Albert "B" tennis tourney

The third annual St. Albert invitational "B" tennis tournament was a very successful event held this past weekend. The tournament attracted a total of 51 entrants from the local clubs of Garneau, Glenora, Hillcrest and Fort Saskatchewan.

Tournament organizers -- Fraser Fairweather and Judy Wood reported that the good weather, plus the use of professional sets (the first player to reach nine games) for all but the finals helped keep the draw on schedule -- with the four town courts in constant use all day Saturday and Sunday.

Playing in their last year as B players (as they will be promoted to A next year) Dave Kirk and Judy Wood of the St. Albert Club were both double trophy winners, taking the singles and mixed doubles.

Dave easily lived up to his rating as top seed among the 22 entrants in men's singles in disposing of John O'Connor of the Garneau Club in short order 6-1, 6-0 in the final. Judy had a more difficult time defeating second seeded Sue Gilbertson of the Garneau Club 9-7 in the ladies singles double knockout event final. Dave and Judy as top seeds in mixed doubles later defeated second seeded Sue Gilbertson and Ken Brown of Garneau Club 6-4, 6-4.

The ladies doubles event saw Marian Orchard and Loretta Reid from Fort Saskatchewan defeat Angela Sonntag and Peggy Robins of St. Albert 9-7 in the double knockout event.

In the mens doubles Mike Craigen and Larry Kennard of Glenora defeated Ab Glowicki and Dave Mellor of Hillcrest 9-7, 6-3 in the final.

Secondary winners are as follows: mens singles - Clark Warren of St. Albert; mens doubles - Bruce Orchard and Maurice Clegg of Fort Saskatchewan; mixed doubles - Rita Prowse of St. Albert and Frank Kessel of University.

Junior club members are reminded of the beginners tournament to be held Sunday, June 21 at 1 p.m. Only those juniors who are taking the beginners lessons this year are eligible for the tournament. For further information call Dave Almond at 599-6049.

All senior members are reminded of the club weiner roast to be held Saturday, June 20 at 9 p.m. on a local farm at a cost of 50¢ per person. Please contact June Raven at 599-3202 for further information.

A senior novelty doubles tournament will be held Wednesday, June 24, at 6:30 p.m. All levels of playing ability are welcome for this tournament as the stronger players will be paired with the weaker. Social gathering to follow.

Adults who are in the Tuesday tennis classes are reminded that due to rain-out lessons the fourth and sixth lessons will be held Thursday, June 18 and 25 at the regular times. For further information call Judy Wood at 599-8696.

Kids turn in a great game

Two teams of Little Canadian ball players had the fans going crazy at Mission Park diamond Thursday night. "Best game ever played in Little Canadian ball," said one. Another spectator, Gordon Sinclair, who has umpired innumerable games in minor ball, was tremendously impressed with the game between the Angels and Senators, both of St. Albert. "Errors were almost negligible," he said, "and it only took those kids one hour and fifteen minutes to play the game -- the seniors could learn a lesson! -- They were just tremendous!"

Gazette sports writer Larry Mitchell had a number of calls from fans who had seen the game -- and they were all raving about the kids. Final score was 6-5 for the Angels who are now in first place.

Little Canadian players are 10, 11 and 12 years old. Go on out and see them sometime!

Marian Orchard and Loretta Reid of Fort Saskatchewan display trophies as ladies doubles winners at St. Albert "B" tourney.

The big winners in St. Albert's invitational "B" tennis tournament - Judy Wood and Dave Kirk won the ladies and mens single events and then teamed up to take the mixed doubles.

Fish stories win

Father Jan School has dispensed of its gold fish, tigers and guppies in a novel way.

Students were asked to write fish stories. Those judged best were allowed to choose fish in order of placing as contest winners.

Lucky winners were: David Caron, Ross McRae, Marcel Bellef, Monica Chelkowski, Renu Sharma, Monique Audy, Wade Wakefield and Annette LeBlanc.

Here are two of the stories:

MY WHOPPER FISH
by David Caron, Grade 4

Last July my dad and I set out on a fishing trip. We left St. Albert at one o'clock for our destination, Cross Lake, which is a 120 mile trip from here. We planned to stay two days to fish. At four o'clock we arrived at the government campground on the edge of the lake. In less than no time we had the tent unrolled and set up. While my dad was unloading the food, I set up the camp cots and unrolled the sleeping bags. Next we unloaded our boat into the water. It wasn't long and we were speeding to one of my dad's favorite fishing spots. We fished for an hour when my dad got a bite. Boy, was he excited! He fought for a half-hour to bring the fish in. What a disappointment to find that it was just a tiny minnow. He decided to let it go so it could grow bigger for next year.

Right at that time when we were ready to leave and go back to camp, I felt a nibble on my line. I was afraid to move in case it might have gone away. After sitting patiently for five minutes, I felt a stronger tug on my line and knew it was going to be a big one. My dad said that I would have to bring it in myself. At that time this I wished I would have eaten my "Wheaties." The worst part of it was that we were on one side of a delta and my line was partly on the other so I couldn't see my catch. Then I felt it coming towards me. It was easy now to reel my line in. I discovered I had not caught a fish but another fishing boat. The fisherman laughed and said, "I'll bet you this is the biggest fish anyone ever caught."

Once upon a time there was a funny little man who went down to the lake to fish. He threw in his line and waited for awhile. Then he felt something at the end of his line. He reeled it in and found out, instead of a little fish, he had caught a big fish. . . . that got bigger and bigger every time he told his story!

Legal baseball

MINOR BASEBALL:

Minor baseball started on May 25 and is doing not too badly so far.

The peewees have a record of two wins and no losses mostly because of their great coaches, Bob and Ray Pelletier. Laurie Brissou and Andy Campbell are the coaches for the bantam team and to date they have won games, lost two and tied one. The team that has done the best however, is that of the midjets who now have five wins and no losses. These midjets are coached by Peter Van Brabant.

SENIOR MEN'S BASEBALL

The Legal senior men's baseball team has played a total of nine games so far this season. Of these nine they have won four, lost four and tied one.

The Legal team has attended one tournament in Mayerthorpe where they won the sum of $50.

On June 6 and 7 the seniors were holding a tournament in Legal and this seems to have proven fairly successful. Eight teams were in attendance for the event. These included the teams from Vimy, Fawcett, Lac La Biche, Mayerthorpe, St. Albert, Winterburn, the Braves and Legal.

Legal still has many games and tournament to attend. In these games and tournaments we wish you good luck.

JUNIOR GIRLS:

This year the Legal junior girls have joined an organized baseball league. The different teams participating in this league are: Legal, Horsehill, Gibbons, Bon Accord and two teams from Namao. So far the girls have played five games winning two and losing three. The two wins were against

A man boasted that he had successfully built and tested an electric car capable of driving coast to coast, non-stop, and that all it had cost him was the amazingly small sum of $2,085. As he described the car to some of his friends, they all agreed that he achieved a fantastic success. "Yes," he said, "only $2,085. Eighty-five dollars for the body and engine was $2,000 for the extension cord."

Horsehill by a score of 41 to 32 and against Namao by a score of 23-16. The girls' coach is Mrs. Rachelle Pelletier who is doing a great job of encouraging and training the girls. The scorekeeper is Rita Larose. The girls' positions on the team are as follows:

Catchers: Josie St. Martin and Dolores Letourneau; pitchers: Debbie Mercier and Lillian Brissou; 1st base: Rachelle Nault; 2nd base: Sylvia Charrois; 3rd base: Brenda Campbell; fielders: Lorraine, Margo, Kathy, Loretta and Patsy.

The girls have six more games to play and we wish them the best of luck.

JP band entertains 900

Interest in the St. Albert Community Band presently being formed under the sponsorship of the St. Albert Breakfast Lions Club, was heightened Monday by a visit from the Jasper Place Rebel Band which gave a concert in Vital Grandin School gym.

Under the direction of Bandmaster Glen Thamer, the group of 72 students from Jasper Place Composite High School entertained an audience of close to 900 — the majority, children from grades 4 to 8 in the public school system. A number of students from the protestant system who are interested in bandwork were also present.

Smartly turned out in their red and blue uniforms, the Jasper Place students gave their audience the sort of performance which has made them award winners on many occasions. Most of the members of the band joined when they were grade 7 students and have been playing for approximately four years.

The youthful audience listened appreciatively to a program which included a number of selections from "Mary Poppins" and a variety of medleys of well-known tunes.

The students also had an opportunity to learn something about the instruments used in a band. The bandmaster identified the various instruments including flutes, three types of saxophones, clarinets, trumpets, French horns, E flat bass, sousaphone, tympanies, snare and bass drums and bass fiddle. Bob Heuermann, assistant supervisor of music with the cultural development branch of the provincial secretary's department was present to speak to the students on the value of being a bandman.

Also introduced was Jerry Wenness who has been engaged as bandmaster for the St. Albert Community Band. Breakfast Lions Club spokesman John Kaminski states that as a result of the concert, several new registrations for the community band have been received.

Around Town

Mrs. Fran Shultz, familiar to many newcomers to St. Albert as one of the local Welcome Wagon Hostesses for this area, has resigned.

Mrs. June Leggett will continue as hostess, assisted by Mrs. Bette Smithson.

Holding two umbrellas aloft for Lt.-Gov. J. Grant MacEwan and Mayor Ray Gibbon Monday during publicity shots for Rodeo 109, Kinsmen President Tom White was heard to mutter: "Let's hurry this up. I'm beginning to feel like the flying nun."

Also having difficulty during the picture-taking was Mayor Ray Gibbon whose 10-gallon hat wouldn't stay anchored on his head. It prompted one bystander to wonder if winning the mayors' shoot-out at Stony Plain on Friday had effected the mayor's head size in any way.

St. Albert Parish Kindergarten are still accepting applications for students, catholic or non-catholic, for 1970-71 term. Registration fee is $2. Door to door service.

Forms may be picked up at the Catholic Church or by phoning Mrs. Joan Murray at 599-8160.

NEWCOMERS

We welcome the following to St. Albert:

Mr. and Mrs. R. Bosetti and family; Mr. and Mrs. D. Zuccato and family of the new Braeside area.

Mr. and Mrs. W. Davis of Mission Park; Mr. and Mrs. M. Langman and family of Sturgeon Heights and Mr. and Mrs. V. Smallwood of Grandin Park.

Villeneuve

The parishioners of St. Peter's Church wish to thank all those who came out to enjoy the annual picnic and who helped to make it a success.

Winners of the raffle prizes were: first prize — an Italian vase — Mrs. Emilie Soetart; second prize — a picture made from moose hair — Miss Pauline Belanger; third prize — a lawn chair was won by Julie Lesburg.

The parishioners are pleased to see Father Volk back home after a stay in hospital for 10 days.

in order to have homes custom-built. As these private buyers are "generally late getting into the game," Mr. Bothwell pointed out, such sales would depend on the availability of lots.

Mr. Bothwell praised the town's high development standards. These standards, coupled with the town's natural attributes, the fact that the new university will be located in the area, the historical background of the town, and a properly planned and farsighted approach to development, all combine to give St. Albert the potential for becoming one of the better communities in Alberta, he said.

BACM has a long history of development in St. Albert. Mr. Bothwell stated. He was referring to the Engineered Homes built some years ago in the Grandin Park area. Although BACM's development program was suspended for a period of time, the company has always been attracted to the mission Park area with its "fine aspect toward Big Lake and the surrounding rural area."

Mr. Bothwell commented on the considerable potential in the Big Lake and Sturgeon River area, "not only for our development but for the town and the whole metropolitan region."

Referring to a recent meeting hosted by the St. Albert and District Chamber of Commerce, dealing with Sturgeon River development, Mr. Bothwell stated that he was most encouraged by the fact that the province is examining an over-all scheme of development for the area. He also expressed interest in an opportunity to examine what role Big Lake could play as an early element in the implementation of the total scheme.

the mayors' of North Central Alberta have gotta be among the best sports to be found anywhere! And a bang-up deal it's going to be when they meet for the Big Frontier Daze Shoot-Off at 1:30 Saturday afternoon, June 27.

Morinville's Art Stapleton is going to have his hands full defending his reputation against such well-known "quick draws" as Edmonton's Ivor Dent, Mayor Kritzinger for Stony Plain, along with Fort Saskatchewan's Ben Knowles and many other mayors who have all indicated their intention of shooting it out for the 'Silver Tray' put up by the staff of the Royal Bank.

Muriel Martin named to new post

Mrs. Muriel Martin, newly-appointed assistant superintendent of schools for St. Albert Protestant School District No. 6, thinks perhaps she might be the only woman in Alberta to hold such a post.

"At least I haven't heard of any others," she said, "but of course this doesn't necessarily mean there aren't any."

Mrs. Martin's appointment was announced at a board of trustees meeting, May 27, in her position -- which is a newly-created one -- she will assist Superintendent of Schools Elmer Gish.

Mrs. Martin was formerly supervisor of elementary education in the district.

"It might be called a redesignation of the position," she stated. "There will no longer be a supervisor of elementary education as such."

"My emphasis will continue to be at the elementary level and Mr. Gish's main emphasis will be at the secondary level -- but in general we will be working together."

Mrs. Martin describes as a "very healthy outlook" the attitude of officials in the district toward the appointment of women to administrative positions.

"They are not biased in this and there is a place for advancement for women in this district."

Mrs. Martin admits that she enjoys "the excitement of a move up" and the considerable challenge and scope her new position offers.

"I'm very interested in all aspects and all levels of education," she said. "The great majority of my time will continue to be spent in the schools."

Mrs. Martin was born in Manitoba where she took her initial teacher training. She attended the University of Manitoba and the University of Alberta where she specialized in elementary and early childhood education. A resident of Edmonton, she has one daughter who is a graduate nurse.

Before coming to St. Albert as supervisor of reading in 1964, Mrs. Martin taught in a number of national defence schools. From Guthrie School at Namao, she went to Germany to teach in Canadian forces schools. On her return to Canada, she was appointed vice-principal at Guthrie School.

The move to her new job will not necessitate a physical move for Mrs. Martin. She will continue to work from the same bright, book-lined office in the administration building, which she occupied as supervisor of elementary education.

Her enthusiasm for elementary programs is obvious as she points out the results of various student projects.

A self-portrait of a happy-looking little girl with bouncy brown hair hangs on the wall opposite her desk, along with other examples of student art. These are art purchases authorized by the school board to encourage art work amongst students of the district.

Results of another elementary school project in language arts -- children's books, amazingly well written and illustrated by grade 6 children -- are enthusiastically displayed by Mrs. Martin.

"This began as a pilot project in Sir Alexander Mackenzie school," Mrs. Martin explained. Following its initial success, grade 6 students in Leo Nickerson and Sir George Simpson schools were included in the project.

"Students write the books for grade 1 children, read the stories to them and then leave the books for the class," she added that the grade 6 students were "really enthused" over producing the booklets.

The children work on writing the stories, printing and illustrating the books, either by themselves or as a team.

Mrs. Martin describes the project as "tremendously exciting" -- especially from the standpoint of students helping other students. She is investigating the possibility of having the books reproduced for general distribution throughout the district.

Mrs. Martin admits that she'll be in for a busy time in her new position and it's obvious that she's most enthusiastic at the prospect.

Work won't stop when holiday time rolls around for the students either. Mrs. Martin will spend the summer teaching students in the teacher-training course at the University of Calgary.

Boddez-Williams wedding

MORINVILLE: Miss Diana Williams, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Cust of Morinville, and Remi Boddez son of Mr. and Mrs. Hector Boddez of Calahoo, were united in a double ring marriage ceremony performed by Rev. G. H. Primeau on Saturday, June 13 in St. John the Baptist Roman Catholic church.

The radiant bride chose a floor length gown of white nylon chiffon, featuring a stand-up collar, long sleeves and a gathered skirt ending in a train. Her shoulder length misty bouffant veil was held in place by lace pillbox headpiece decorated with lace rosettes. She carried a presentation bouquet of red American Beauty roses.

Attending the bride were her sister, Mrs. Lil Boddez and Mrs. Carol Kaup in identical gowns of green and white lace with empire waist and lace capes. Elbow length white gloves, green slippers and bouquets of white roses completed their ensembles.

The groom was attended by two cousins, Gilbert Boddez and Donald Boddez. During the ceremony George Soetaert was soloist and Norman Chailfoux was organist.

To receive 125 guests at the reception and banquet held at the Recreation Centre, the bride's mother chose a pastel lime green ensemble, with black accessories. Mrs. Boddez wore a pink dress with bone white accessories. Mayor Arthur Stapleton was master of ceremonies and the toast to the bride was proposed by Oscar Hittinger. The evening social and dance was attended by some 500 guests

Big breakfast gets Saturday underway

A full day of fun and action is scheduled for Saturday when the merchants of Grandin Shoppers Park start things off in true western fashion with their mammoth annual rodeo free pancake breakfast commencing at 8 a.m. To add to the fun, the Alberta All Girls Drum and Bugle Band will entertain. Of special interest to the young fry will be a decorated bicycle contest with judging taking place before the parade — at 10 a.m. Saturday in Sir George Simpson School grounds.

Rodeo 109 parade gets underway at 11 a.m.

"It looks like a dandy," say rodeo officials. Over 50 floats had entered the parade as of last weekend with at least 12 top-notch bands planning to participate. A favorite of last year's rodeo, the Edmonton City Police Pipe Band will again be in attendance.

The parade will take approximately 40 minutes to pass a given point and judging of floats will take place at the corner of Sir Winston Churchill Avenue and Grandin Road. Judges are Chris McDonnell, secretary-treasurer of St. Albert Public School District No. 3, Mrs. McDonnell and D. L. "Roy" White, secretary-treasurer of the Protestant Separate School Board No. 6.

Intermission entertainment during Saturday's rodeo performances, includes a performance by the Klondike Posse and the Alberta All Girls Drum and Bugle Band. A media calf roping contest with entries from area radio, TV and newspaper firms, promises to be a highlight of the evening show.

Kinsmen draw for a one-thousand dollar bill will be made at 11 p.m. Saturday at the dance scheduled for the Community Hall. Top country and western music will be featured at the Friday and Saturday dances, sponsored by the Community League.

Following Sunday afternoon's final rodeo performance a Mayors' roping contest will be held. Mayor Ray Gibbon, fresh from a win at the Mayors' Shoot-out at Stony Plain on the weekend, has issued challenges to all mayors in the area to try their hand at bull roping. Presentation of rodeo prizes is the last scheduled event on Sunday's program although the midway will operate until 10 p.m.

In addition to the prize money, cowboys will be competing for a trophy shot gun awarded to the all-around champion, donated by the Bruin Hotel Co., and a silver buckle awarded to the high point champion and donated by Ross Enterprises Ltd. of St. Albert.

Big name cowboys seek top prizes

St. Albert takes on a decidedly western flavor this week as cowboys from across Canada and the United States converge on the town to take a whack at the prize money being offered by Rodeo 109.

The Canadian cowboys who'll be taking part in the rodeo are members of The Canadian Rodeo Cowboys Association -- a 25-year old organization which boasts a 600-man membership and which operates out of offices in Calgary.

Formed to organize professional rodeo contestants for their mutual benefit and protection, the CRCA has raised the standards of rodeo contests and contestants, boosted prize monies and made rodeo a strong, exciting sport.

CRCA officials point out that in a day when cowboys herds travel down super highways on big trucks, when cattle are calmed by tranquilizers and branded in chutes and the cowboy often rides the range in a pickp truck, the ar is the last frontier where a cowboy is still a cowboy in the truest sense of the word.

Rodeo cowboys can win more in a minute than most men earn in a month -- but they also face being killed or crippled for life in the process.

One of Canada's finest cowboys is Kenny McLean, 1969 CRCA all-around champion, who is expected to be on hand when the chutes open Friday at Rodeo 109. From Okanagan Falls, B.C., the quiet 30-year-old cowboy has been CRCA all-around champion three times.

Another favorite of rodeo circuit fans who'll be in town for this week's events is CRCA President Malcolm Jones of Lethbridge, second-place winner in the all-around competitions in 1969.

Namao

The Namao United Church Women groups held a joint meeting on June 15, in the Namao Community Hall. John Bockock presented films on his recent trip to India. An enjoyable evening was had by all.

The annual Namao Cemetery Day will be held on June 27.

A shower was held on June 2 in the Namao Community Hall in honor of Miss Gwen Clapp, bride-elect of John Koch. The wedding took place June 13.

The vice-president of a big corporation came back from a very liquid lunch. He staggered to his secretary's desk and announced loudly: "Mish Shlimpson, I'm back." Then he walked unsteadily into his office.

When the secretary looked in, he was unconscious. His phone rang and she answered. "I'm sorry," she said, "but he's out from lunch."

Karsh overdid it

Research is almost a trademark with Yousuf Karsh of Ottawa, world-renowned photographer, but in an interview in Canadian photography he admits that it's possible to overdo your homework before photographing a famous subject.

"Once I had to photograph Ernest Hemingway in Havana," he recalled. "I read a great deal about him, consulted his friends, and talked with his wife. One man told me that to establish rapport with Hemingway it was necessary to drink his favorite drink, the Daiquiri, developed for him at a bar in Havana.

"I was driven to Hemingway's home in Havana at 10 in the morning and after a while, the writer asked me what I'd like to drink. I replied, 'Daiquiri, sir.' Hemingway responded: 'Good God! At this hour!'"

How did those six Sioux get on our beer label? (Six? Count 'em. Six.) To say nothing of three crows. And a Hupmobile. And twenty-nine trees. And our House of Lethbridge. How? Frankly, we don't remember. It all happened many moons ago. But one thing's certain: we'll never change our label. Or the great beer behind it. In Lethbridge, we go right on brewing it the slow, natural way, for real flavour. We have spoken.
